

iChoose: Devotions for Real Life

iChoose is a devotional book that helps teens and twenty-somethings live out their beliefs. Once they have determined what they actually believe about faith, peer pressure, purity, eternity, and doing the right thing, they often don't know how to put it into action. iChoose uses real stories from real people to give them the courage to stand up for what they believe. This four-week journey can be used for personal discovery or group interaction. Tom Richards weaves stories from his life and the lives of students and friends into each chapter as examples of how standing up for what we believe may be tough, but it's worth it. The discussion questions are great for self-reflection or to share with friends in a small group.

They dictate the color of our eyes, our complexion and most certainly our susceptibility to develop certain illnesses, among which, Cancer is one that we are most concerned about. Is there a way to determine if we are predisposed and carry a higher risk of developing certain cancers? Can we predict at what age we may develop an illness? And if so, what can, or rather, shall we do about it. Read more...
