Not illustrated. 1881 Excerpt: ... not thyself because of evil-doers, neither be thou envious against the workers of iniquity. For they shall soon be cut down like the grass, and wither as the green herb. Trust in the Lord, and do good; so shalt thou dwell in the land, and verily thou shalt be fed. Delight thyself also in the Lord; and he shall give thee the desires of thine heart. Commit thy way unto the Lord; trust also in him; and he shall bring it to pass. And he shall bring forth thy righteousness as the light, and thy judgment as the noonday.--Ps. xxxvii. 1-6. HO would not learn a lore like this, By some sweet psalmist taught? And rest in calm content of bliss, Without unquiet thought? And yet our restless hearts, perplexed With secrets strange or fell, And oft with righteous anger vexed, Are eager to rebel. Not fret--when men of prosperous wrong In gilded chariots ride; When trampled weak and tyrant strong On every hand abide; When, now with rage, and now with boast, The hot world cheats the way, And wreckers hoist, on iron coast, False lights to lure astray; When perjured lives, with wasteful prayers, Their sordid aims can leaven,--As one should turn to fiery glares Gods rainbows out of heaven; When wicked in their power secure Gods justice seem to arraign;--Were it not weakness to endure? Dishonour to refrain? Like songs in storms, the calm command Still sounds, Fret not thy soul, Nor wrath nor envy understand, The mystery of the whole. Why should the stately oak complain That grass hath earlier spring, When centuries yet of sun and rain Will hail the forest king? For it will through long summers hide The woodland songsters blithe, When the frail grasses at its side Have fallen by the scythe. Wherefore all helpless angers

They dictate the color of our eyes, our complexion and most certainly our susceptibility to develop certain illnesses, among which, Cancer is one that we are most concerned about. Is there a way to determine if we are predisposed and carry a higher risk of developing certain cancers? Can we predict at what age we may develop an illness? And if so, what can, or rather, shall we do about it. Read more...
