

When Fates Collide (Volume 1)

Life can change in the blink of an eye. One moment, Lily is trapped in a loveless marriage. In a split second, she is free, but at what cost? Her mundane life is set into a freefall of tragedy and terror. Her husband may be out of her life, but he left a storm of collateral damage behind, and the burden is on Lily to sort it out. Fate connects Lily with Gavin, a charmingly handsome British gentleman who has been drawn into her tangled circumstance. Gavin is everything Lily's husband wasn't and gives her hope that love really does exist. Gavin wants nothing more than to carry Lily off into the sunset, far away from the devastation left behind by her husband, but she isn't looking to be saved. She needs to clean up her husband's mess and find a way to save herself in the process. Should she throw caution to the wind and open her heart? Or listen to her head which tells her and go it alone until she's found herself again?

Hidden Dangers of Cell Phone Radiation Every day, we're swimming in a sea of electromagnetic radiation (EMR) produced by electrical appliances, power lines, wiring in buildings, and a slew of other technologies that are part of modern life. From the dishwasher and microwave oven in the kitchen and the clock radio next to your bed, to the cellular phone you hold to your ear—sometimes for hours each day—exposure to EMR is growing and becoming a serious health threat. They dictate the color of our eyes, our complexion and most certainly our susceptibility to develop certain illnesses, among which, Cancer is one that we are most concerned about. Is there a way to determine if we are predisposed and carry a higher risk of developing certain cancers? Can we predict at what age we may develop an illness? And if so, what can, or rather, shall we do about it. Read more... Main Menu Home PROFILE
